

St. Mark's Historic Landmark Fund
Third Annual Lecture

Local Food Panel
The "Buy Local" Movement and its Role in Promoting Economic Stability

Thursday, April 19, 2007
6:30 pm

St. Mark's Church in-the-Bowery
Parish Hall
131 East 10th Street at 2nd Ave.

*Free program ~ Reservations required
212-228-2781 or info@smhlf.org*

Local Food Panel

The “Buy Local” Movement and its Role in Promoting Economic Stability

A discussion of local food and the role of New York City residents in preserving and supporting our regional farmland

Panelists:

Peter Hoffman: Chef-owner, Savoy Restaurant & former Chair, Chefs Collaborative

Judith LaBelle: President, Glynwood Center

Cheryl Rogowski: Farmer, W. Rogowski Farm & MacArthur Fellow

Keith Stewart: Farmer, Keith’s Farm & Author of “It’s a Long Road to a Tomato”

Moderator: Loren Talbot: co-founder of Local Labels, Ltd.

~ Reception to follow ~

Wine generously donated by Union Square Wines & Spirits

A silent auction will be held during the event to support St. Mark’s Historic Landmark Fund and its programs

Please also join us for a free special film screening of “Greenmarket at 30” and “Beyond Organic”

Tuesday, April 17th, 2007 ~ 6:30 PM

Jimmy’s No. 43

43 East 7th Street between 2nd & 3rd Avenues (basement)

Reservations required: 212-228-2781 or info@smhlf.org

Sponsored in partnership with the Council on the Environment of New York City

The St. Mark’s Historic Landmark Fund is committed to the preservation of the landmark St. Mark’s Church in-the-Bowery site, a remarkable ensemble of buildings and landscaped property dating back to 1799.

For more information: www.smhlf.org ~ 232 E. 11th Street New York, NY 10003

